LARGE HAIL STONES

During the rain on Tuesday evening there was some hail fall in this city and vicinity, and the hail stones were unusually large. Some reported that they were as large as a hen's egg, and from this down to the size of a pea. Personally, the writer did not see any as large as a hen's egg, but there were some an inch in diameter and all that fell were larger than ordinary. It was lucky that only a few fell, as otherwise it might have caused a great deal of damage to the crops.

The Kafka Trio, aerialists extraordinary, will grace the tree act program of the Marshfield Fair, Sept. 3, 4, 5, 6, with a wonderful death-defying suspension act, floating above the heads of the crowds. No description can convey an idea of their audacious and daring.

EAT THE EGGS

The Press of Wood county: The United States Food Administration looks with disfavor upon the use of eggs for shampooing the hair; and barber shops and beauty parlors and others should discontinue the use of eggs for this purpose.

Sugar for canning may be sold only upon permits issued by County Food Administrator or his deputies and then only in quantities not to exceed 10 pounds.

The Food Administration advises that the greatest amount of canning to be done with the least quantity of sugar possible and advise the cold pack method; pamphlets containing recipes and directions for such canning may be obtained from the county Food Administrator or his deputies.

HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Crook-Rift Rod and Reel Club was held at the club house on river on Saturday and Sunday. The event started on Saturday evening with a fish chowder, several members having gone up river in time to catch the fish. The chowder was a success, and there was a chicken chowder, at which there was a full attendance. At these meals there were eleven of the original members of the club, that belonged when it was organized some 22 years ago. To say that there was a pleasant time only partly expresses the joy of the occasion.

ALEX JONES WRITES FROM THE WAR ZONE

The following letter was received from Alex Jones, who is serving with the American army in France, gives an idea of things over there that one does not get in the average letter from soldier boys. Following is the letter in part:

Somewhere in France, July 2, 1918.

I have just returned to Paris from a trip to the front and to southern France, where we were in the capacity of the boys who, with in the last fortnight have been making glorious pages of American history.

I got these boys hot off the front, and they were literally, for the sector of trenches and the surrounding wooded country there is one of the hottest on the western front.

Many of them had gone over the morning of the same day they were evacuated to us. And they were a part of the unit which had on that day been ordered to the front.

Back six kilometers and clear of the hills where for months they had successfully defied strong efforts by the French, British and American Dough boys. They had taken positions that could only be gained by direct attack for the big rocks and natural formations in the hills made it impossible to reach them with the biggest guns.

They had pushed thru in the face of the most withering machine gun and artillery fire in the world. They had been there with withered bodies and were now there said they did not understand how the Americans had done it.

But after 24 hours with those boys I could understand it. Men fresh from field hospitals who have yards of white gauze where an arm ought to be, or whose bodies are literally covered by great bandage to cover their wounds—men under these circumstances who will grin at you and in-lars are needed for the Red Cross.

THE BOYS UP THERE, AIN'T SPECIALIZIN'
NONE IN PRISONERS.

One of the men called me over and pointed out the Y. M. C. A. secretary. "He is a good game guy," he said. "It's like this. Up there you're lucky if you can keep a pair of pants. In winter you're up there with your pants on. This bird was with a salvaging outfit picking up stuff when he was bumped.

But this bird did not figure he had many flowers coming. The Marine who found the "Will-of-the-Wisp" gun and captured it with the crew operating it, told about it.

"This gun had us guessing for a week," he said. They would open up at night from one tree and the next minute from another. They fired and a detail of us volunteered to look it up. All I remember is we got closer and closer and by crawling along on our bellies we got under it. Those Dutchmen, many out of that tree like chestnuts in the fall and gun with them. But the crew got me on the way back.

He stopped for breath and continued. "What do you suppose this Boche sergeant was trying to do?" he asked. "Well he says 'God is with us but the Allies have got America and it is no use.'"

And being generally shot up does not affect the appetites of the lads who are at the front. Two and even three big bowls of soup, second helpings of meat and potatoes, and a cup of coffee disappeared so fast the service could hardly keep up with them. Especially since many of them had to be fed. And here was another place that the boys did not understand how the Americans had done it.

But after 24 hours with those boys I could understand it. Men fresh from field hospitals who have yards of white gauze where an arm ought to be, or whose bodies are literally covered by great bandage to cover their wounds—men under these circumstances who will grin at you and in-lars are needed for the Red Cross.

WAS A FINE AFFAIR

A large crowd turned out on Saturday night to witness the parade organized by the Women's Council of Defense in an effort to bring publicity to the government's drive for student nurse recruits.

Every patriotic organization in the city was represented, and the trimmed floats and floats gave it a decided gala appearance. First in line was a trimmed roadster bearing the recruiting agents, Miss Mary Carroll and Miss Mary Carroll.

WANTS HIGHER RATES

The Grand Rapids Street Railway company had a hearing before the rate commission on Tuesday, they having asked for a raise in rates all along the line. Almost everything else has gone up, and the company has to pay higher wages to the men who operate the road, so they probably feel that they should receive increased fares.

The company asks that the fare between this city and Nekoosa be increased to 20 cents, with no discount for round trip tickets. Also that the fare between Port Edwards and Nekoosa be increased to 10 cents, and that the 6 rides for 25 cents be abolished. The 40 ride book between this city and Port Edwards they want increased from $3.50 to $4.00. Taken altogether, the increase will make quite a difference to the working men, who use the road probably more than any other class of people, as many of those who work at Nekoosa and Port Edwards live in this city.

This newspaper is a member of the Wisconsin Patriotic Press Association and pledges its uncompromising loyalty to our government in this war.

“Our country” In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be the right, but our country, right or wrong.—Stephen Decatur.

THE PRESIDENT ON MOB SPIRIT
“I have called upon the Nation to put its great energy into this war and it has responded—responded with a spirit and a genius for action that has thrilled the world. I new that upon it, upon its men and women everywhere, to see to it that its laws are kept inviolate, its flag untarnished.”

“I can never accept any man as a champion of the world for our own sake, for the world does not reverence and obey the laws of our own beloved land, whose laws we ourselves have made. He has adopted the standards of the enemies of our country, whose efforts to despise.”—President Wilson.

DID NOT BORROW TO BUY BONDS
The Federal Reserve Bulletin says that one of the most encouraging and gratifying features of the Third Liberty Loan is that apparently there has been little use of bank accommodations for the purchase of the bonds. It is estimated that probably more than 80 per cent of the bonds are already fully paid for.

The financial statements of the various Federal reserve banks indicate according to the Bulletin, that the amount of money loaned to the banks was done by the subscribers to the third loan. They either paid cash or bought on the installment plan.

This causes a great deal of burden on the banks, upon whose shoulders rests the financing of the business and industry of the country.

RECRUITING IS SLOW
The recruiting for student nurses in this community has suffered some reverses and it now looks as if Grand Rapids were going to fall for the first time to go “over the top” in a war drive.

After all the efforts made by the Council of Defense and Red Cross members connected with the conducting of a recruiting station, fourteen girls signed up for service—eleven in army and navy hospitals. Then the government sent out more detailed specifications concerning the requirements for enrollment, which barred out a good many of those already enlisted on one account or another.

The drive was not only expected to fill the military hospitals, but to get recruits for civilian hospitals as well, to relieve graduate nurses to care for our wounded.

The requirements for enrollment in civilian hospitals are not so rigorous as those of the military schools and they offer a wider range of experience for a woman who expects to make general nursing her profession after graduation. But while enlistment for work in civilian hospitals would be equally patriotic and highly beneficial to the country, lacking the course, it seems to lack the necessary military glamour, and all but three of the girls who had signed up refused to consider enlistment in anything but military schools. Some are influenced by other weighty considerations, of course—for one thing the army and navy hospitals pay more for services rendered.

It would seem that there should be enough single women of sufficient education in this locality who would be interested in helping to win the war in this way, but as yet they are letting the other woman do the enlisting, and the station will only be open until next Saturday night.

LADY FORESTERS ORGANIZE
A Lady Forester Court was organized at Grand Rapids on Sunday, August 4th, when 24 members were taken in, and there are several more in prospect. Mary L. Downes of Chicago was at Grand Rapids for the purpose of presiding over the organization, while the court was being taken in. Mrs. L. Livernash and Mrs. Stroupe of Wausau. About forty ladies from Grand Rapids, including the drill team, were up to assist in the work. After the work was over, the ladies, by the Rudolph ladies, and everybody departed wishing the new court great success for the future.

On Friday evening a special meeting was called for the purpose of entertaining the High Vice Chief Ranger, Mary L. Downes of Chicago. During the evening a program was rendered which was as follows:

Piano duet by Mrs. Burdell and Mrs. Beck.

Plag drill by 16 girls.

Introduction of Mary L. Downes by C. R. Proveda Golla. Miss Downes gave a very interesting talk for the good of the order and also the growth and strength of the W. C. O. F.

Vocal Solo by Mrs. Kaudy.

Recitation: “To My Mother,” by Mrs. Halmer.

The large drill team with Mrs. Halmer as their captain and Mrs. Beck presiding at the piano formed the cross and W. C. O. F. This was enjoyed by all, after which dainty refreshments were served.

JAPAN'S SHIPBUILDING
Nowhere, perhaps, is the effect of the war upon Japan more patent than in her great naval yards at Yokosuka; nowhere does the strength and magnitude of her ambitions find more cogent demonstration. The possessors of an island empire, this stationer of Japan has been slow to recognize the value of a strong navy and a powerful and numerous mercantile marine. Under a system of shipbuilding and shipbuilding bounties, her merchant shipping has made huge strides; and the advocates of state aid, in return under certain circumstances for state control, may point confidently to the successful transportation of troops in time of war in justification of their policy.

MELON APPLHS ON CUCUMBER VINES

Are the leaves of your cucumber vine turning yellow, or have some of the leaves died and dried up? If so, look on the under side of the leaves and you will probably see colonies of little green sucking out (lice) which have been sucking out the vitality of your plants. If allowed to continue their destructive work they will eventually destroy the vines. If control measures are taken in the earlier stages of their attack the vines can be saved.

Solutions

1. “Black Leaf 40”—Can be bought at drug stores. Apply according to instructions on the bottle.

2. Kerosene Emulsion, (8% solution)—Can be made at home.

Garden Quantity—Dissolve 1 oz. of laundry soap in 1 pint of boiling water. Take the mixture of the water and add 1 pint of kerosene. Stir well, beat up the mixture of water, soap and kerosene until it becomes creamy in color. This is your stock solution. When spraying use 1 part of this stock solution thoroughly stirred, with 8 parts of water. Keep the mixture in the sprayer well stirred up.

Field Quantity—Dissolve 3/4 lb. laundry soap in 1 gallon of boiling water. Take off the stove and add 2 gallons of kerosene. Mix thoroughly by means of a spray pump, pumping the mixture out of a pail and back into it again. Use 1 part of this stock solution to every 8 parts of water in the sprayer. A knapsack nozzle is one of the handiest means of applying the spray.

Tecktonus' 'Self-Adjusting' Silo Hoop Fasteners

Automatically adjusts silo to all stave swelling and shrinking. Gives six to ten inches take-up. Takes 2500 pounds to make taut.

SILLO CONSTRUCTION REVOLUTIONIZED

By mastering the problem of the shrinking and swelling of wood staves—at the same time always keeping the silo rigid and air tight—Tecktonus has revolutionized silo construction.

This is accomplished by Tecktonus' original, exclusive, self-adjusting hoop and door fasteners and “hinged” silo door. These distinctive, patented Tecktonus features overcome the defects and troubles of ordinary wood silo construction. They make the Tecktonus airtight, give it all the strength and rigidity of concrete, and all the perfect silage making properties of wood.

TECKTONUS' SELF-ADJUSTING SILO

Is assembled complete in your yard and sold only through us in this territory. Its matchless Tecktonus features—self-adjusting hoop and door fasteners, hinge silo door, immovable anchorage—give you a silo absolutely unequalled for stability, rigidity, perfect silage making and convenience in opening and closing.

COSTS LESS—LASTS LONGER GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION

Tecktonus Silo exceeds in every feature insuring silo construction superiority—silo service satisfactory. By eliminating silo makers' excessive overhead expenses and giving you the Tecktonus at less than you pay for vastly inferior silos.

WE HAVE THE PROOFS

Don't take our word. See sample hinge silo door and self-adjusting hoop fastener at our office, and be convinced.

A DEFINITE PLAN

It is well to have a definite plan when you start a savings account.

First, you must determine the bank where you wish to do your business and if this bank is your choice, we assure you that the account will be much appreciated regardless of size.

Then deposit whatever amount you have on hand, AT ONCE, while the subject is under consideration.

Next decide upon the amount you can save daily, weekly or monthly and bank it regularly.

Under this plan you will soon have a fund to be proud of.

NOTICE!

Though you may not believe it, the following pathetic letter was written in France on the last day of February. The censor passed it bodily, but in passing made it accurate copy, the which we reproduce:

Dear Ant:

Recotted your P. C. today and you are sure in rotten luck. All men are cows once in a while, so you should worry about an old state that give you about two aris milk every five days. I am in the best of health, but you are the old man yesterday and while everythin is Jaka with him he hollers like a bull about that dam cow pushed. I mit lose my letter over here and you don't hear me later. I guess not, the old man does not think I am in France, and I should fret and fume about his opinion of me.

The old man was a good old skater as long as he had plenty of milk, but since some one drew the curtains on booze in that town of his, well he acts like a soar hen. I cant rite you much as they have a censor here who seizes all a guy riles, so whats the use. I should worry, anyway you never wrote me much and from what you rite me in your letter you think I owe you some. You make me sick and mad to used to give you all kinds of money, but I had it and never ast you anything what you did with this kate. That cost me sweat and all kinds of loss of good old sleep, but you and the old man are alike. nothing but a fat guy out of his cash and then laf at him when he as up against a wall.

I got five dutchmen and maybe southin else and then I can come home with medals and bells and it be good to you for the give me a soft job and ill split fifty with you. You are bad at that but for the love of nuke cut out all this gush about me being a soldier and forget it. I am fine and eat all I see. we have a place here where I can buy eggs and meet and believe me I pushed a lot of this stuff into me last week on top of 3 bottles red wine. the wine tasted like vinegar but it had a punch and thats all a guy cares about.

Where he is and make the old man shut up and make him some skate when lucky so find him some bicker somewhere and then have him rite me a P. C. with kisses and all kinds of luck to you- and the old fish, yours.

NOVEL RECRUITING SIGNS

In a recruiting station in lower Broadway in New York is a device to show passersby how they look in uniform. It is a figure in khaki, stuffed with excelsior and set up to stand in "attention." Between the collar and cap is placed an oval shaving mirror, the size and general shape of your face. By peering into it you will see yourself clad in good, honest khaki, except for a wholesome tan and a more determined expression, that a soldier would look in uniform. On the figure is hung this placard: "Our hat's in the ring. Come in and put me on." Another poster urges the necessity of enlisting. It reads: "Come across or Germany will arm us." "What Burns said in 1862 is good for 1917; Oh, why the deuce I ripline, and be an ill for-hoder? Am twenty-three and 5 feet 9"—"I'll go and be a soldier."

"Our country? In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in this the right, but our country right or wrong."—Stephen Decatur.

THE PRESIDENT ON MOB SPIRIT
"I have called upon the Nation to put its great genius for action to work and it has responded. It has given us a spirit and a genius for action that has thrilled the world. I now call upon it, upon its men and women everywhere, to see to it that its laws are kept inviolate, its false ungrateful."

"I can never accept any man as a champion of liberty either for ourselves or for the world who does not reverence and obey the laws of our own beloved land, whose laws we ourselves have made. He has adopted the standards of the enemies of his country, whom he affects to despise."—President Wilson.

DID NOT BORROW TO BUY BONDS
The Federal Reserve Bulletin says that one of the most encouraging and gratifying features of the Third Liberty Loan is that apparently there has been little use of bank accounts over the financing of the war bonds. It estimates that probably more than 80 per cent of the bonds are already fully paid for.

MELON APHIDS ON CUCUMBER VINES
Are the leaves of your cucumber vines turning yellow, or have some of the leaves died and dried up? If so, look on the under side of the leaves and you will probably see clusters of little green aphids (plant lice) which have been sucking out the vitality of your plants. If allowed to continue their destructive work they will eventually destroy the vines. If control measures are taken in the earlier stages of their attack the vines can be saved.

Control
Spray one of the following solutions on the under surface of the leaves. Remember that the spray has to actually come in contact with the aphids to kill them.

Solutions
1. Black Leaf 40. Can be bought at drug stores. Apply according to instructions on the bottle.
2. Kerosene Emulsion. (3% solution)—Can be made at home.

Garden Quantity—Dissolve 1 oz. of laundry soap in 1 gallon of boiling water. Add 1/2 cup of kerosene. Mix thoroughly. Use the mixture of oil and water in your stock solution. When spraying use 1 part of this stock solution thoroughly stirred, with 3 parts of the cold water. Stir the mixture in the sprayer well stirred up.

Field Quantity—Dissolve 1/2 lb. laundry soap in 1 gallon of boiling water. Take of the mixture and add 2 gallons of kerosene. Mix thoroughly. Use the mixture of oil and water in your stock solution. When spraying use 1 part of this stock solution thoroughly stirred, with 3 parts of the cold water. Stir the mixture in the sprayer well stirred up.

Tecktonius' 'Self-Adjusting' Silo Hoop Fasteners
Automatically adjusts silo to all stove swelling and shrinking. Gives six to ten inches take-up. Takes 2500 pounds to make taut.

SILO CONSTRUCTION REVOLUTIONIZED
By mastering the problem of the shrinking and swelling of wood staves—at the same time always keeping the silo tight and air tight—Tecktonius has revolutionized silo construction.
This is accomplished by Tecktonius' original, exclusive, self-adjusting hoop and door fasteners and "hinged" silo doors. Tecktonius' distinctive, potential Tecktonius features overcome the defects and troubles of ordinary wood silo construction. They make the Tecktonius airtight, give it all the strength and rigidity of wood, and all the perfect silage making properties of wood.

TECKTONIUS' SELF-ADJUSTING SILO
Is assembled complete in our yards and sold only through us in this territory. Its matchless Tecktonius features—self-adjusting hoop and door fasteners, hinge silo door, internal silage auger, give you a silo absolutely unequalled for stability, rigidity, perfect silage making and convenience in opening and closing.

COSTS LESS—LASTS LONGER
GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION
Tecktonius Silo exceeds in every feature in silo construction—superiority—silo service satisfactory. By eliminating silo makers' excessive overhead expenses and profits we sell you the Tecktonius at less than you pay for vastly inferior silos.

WE HAVE THE PROOFS
Don't take our word. See sample hinge silo door and self-adjusting hoop fastener at our office, and be convinced.

A DEFINITE PLAN

It is well to have a definite plan when you start a savings account.
First, you must determine the bank where you wish to do your business and if this bank is your choice, we assure you that the account will be much appreciated regardless of size.
Then deposit whatever amount you have on hand, AT ONCE, while the subject is under consideration.
Next decide upon the amount you can save daily, weekly or monthly and bank it regularly.
Under this plan you will soon have a fund to be proud of.

HIGH PRODUCTION OF ARMS AND AMUNITIONS

The attention of owners of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps is called to the following. They are financing the work.

On one day in June last approximately 27,000,000 cartridges of various descriptions were produced in the United States manufacturing plants for the United States Government.

The daily average production of United States Army rifles was broken in the week ending June 29, an average of 10,142 rifles a day of a modified Enfield and Springfield type being maintained. In addition spare parts equivalent to several thousand rifles and several thousand Russian rifles were manufactured.

The Ordnance Department has produced 2,014,815,584 cartridges, 1,886,769 rifles, and 2,259 machine guns since the United States entered the war. The daily output of cartridges is now 15,000,000.

THE PEOPLE OF INDIA

The population of India is far more diverse than is generally thought. They talk about 150 different languages, and are divided into 43 distinct nationalities. There are 2,337 main castes, besides a large number of subcastes. There are 200,000,000 Hindus, from which Great Britain can draw fighting men; 60,000,000 Mohammedans, while among the Hindus there are 50,000,000 of degraded people of no caste, whose touch, or even shadow, is supposed to cause pollution.

HAVE THEIR OWN TROUBLES

It was while I was being initiated into the technique of stoking by shoveling under the boilers that a change of course brought the swinging seas dead ahead, and set the ship rolling over more drunkenly than before, writes Lewis F. Fogel in Popular Mechanics Magazine. After following to hit the "dark spots" and "hollows" two or three times as I staggered to the rail, and once even missing the furnace door itself, on the stroke of taking compass, I followed me of the scoop and put the trouble right with a half-dozen quickly tossed shovelfuls. I was frankly glad to work over to where I could take a "half-nelson" round a bar by the starboard bunker.

A heavy slam-bang from the opposite end of the boiler room indicated that things were not going quite so smoothly there, and edging cautiously over the rail I was presently able to get some hint of the cause from the words of a volubly cursing stoker who limped out to tell me that the "blinker" was choked with "black" and "bruiser" and glowing balefully from a blackened eye which appeared to have been bumped against a boiler, he explained in language more fearful than that of the stoker. The practical theorist had encouraged them to experiment with wheels on the side of the ship, with the idea of making it easier to push about over the coal cluttered deck, and causing the language of the sea. It had "laken charge" and so effectively that one swift, straight rush to starboard, followed by a "googly" progress back to port, put every man who, after by chance or intent, barred its way, more or less hors de combat.

Straight down the one-in-three incline from the port to the starboard bunker, the stoker, that accursed dashing the protesting anatomies of the stokers to left and right as it went. Spilling blood and oaths indiscriminately, one man clung to it all the way, in a vain effort to stop it, who, taking advantage of the tilt—finally rendered it harmless by pushing it over on its side, where it was turned turtle.

EXCHANGE OF LIBERTY BONDS

The issue of registered bonds of the Third Liberty Loan has progressed so far that transfers and exchanges of registered for coupon bonds will be made on and after August 1 until August 15. The registered books will be closed on the later date in order to prepare checks for interest payments on September 15. Bonds may be presented during such period for transfer or exchange, but such transaction will be effected after September 15 and the September interest paid to whomsoever was holder of the bonds on August 15. Coupon bonds presented after August 15 for exchange for registered bonds should have the September interest coupon detached; the registered bonds issued upon such exchange will bear interest from September 15.

ORDINANCE NO. 210

AN ORDINANCE amending form of bond and fixing tax levy in respect of bonds authorized by Ordinance No. 208, entitled, "An Ordinance providing for the issuance of $16,000 Water Works Bonds of the City of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin."

WHEREAS, Ordinance Number 208, adopted on July 2, 1918, makes provision for the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of principal and interest of bonds thereby authorized, as the same mature, save that proceeds of taxes by said Ordinance, levied for the year 1918, may not be available for the payment of interest accruing January 1, 1919, and that proceeds of taxes by said Ordinance provided to be levied for each of the years 1919 to 1937 may not be available for the payment of principal and interest maturing January 1st of each of the years 1920 to 1934, both years included; and

WHEREAS, said bonds are issued pursuant to authority derived from Section 925-133 of Chapter 45t and Section 943 of Chapter 45v of the Wisconsin Statutes, 1917, and it is desirable that the form of bond prescribed by said Ordinance be amended consistently therewith;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the form of bond prescribed by said ordinance, be amended by striking out the second paragraph thereof, and that in lieu thereof, there be inserted the following: "This bond is issued for the purpose of enlarging the waterworks system in and the property of said City, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with Section 925-133 of Chapter 45t and Section 943 of Chapter 45v of the Wisconsin Statutes, 1917, and all other pertinent Sections of said statutes and an Ordinance duly passed by the common council of said City, approved by the Mayor and published."

Section 2. That in order to provide a fund for the payment of interest and principal of said bonds, becoming due on January first of each of the years 1920 to 1934, both years included, there be and there is hereby levied for the year 1918, upon all the taxable property in said City, in addition to other taxes heretofore provided to be levied by said Ordinance Number 208, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $1,375; that said sum of $1,375, when collected, be kept as a separate fund and used for the purpose of paying principal and interest becoming due and payable January 1, 1920; that thereafter said fund be reimbursed each year from the taxes heretofore provided to be levied by said Ordinance No. 208, when the same shall be received, so that said City shall have on hand on January first of each of the years 1921 to 1934, both years included, funds sufficient to pay the interest and principal maturing on January first of each of said years.

That interest accruing January 1, 1919, in the amount of $375, be paid out of the general funds of said City, and that said fund be reimbursed in a like amount out of the taxes heretofore levied by said Ordinance No. 208 for the year 1918, when the same shall be received.

Section 3. That this Ordinance become effective upon its passage, approval, and publication.
Passed, adopted and approved August 6, 1918.
Attest:
F. G. GILKEY, CHAS. E. BRIERE, City Clerk, Mayor.

THE BUSY BIRD

One form of national waste which is far more serious than the American people realize is a result of the deplorable neglect to conserve bird life in this heedless and ungrateful country. Ornithologists and other intelligent observers of nature who have made a study of the subject say with the sanction of crop experts that insects destroy one-tenth of the products of agriculture in the United States. Nearly all birds destroy insects. The federal department of agriculture has found that among the birds which most effectively aid the farmers are phoebes, kingbirds, catbirds, swallows, brown thrushes, rosebreasted grosbeaks, house wrens, vireos, native sparrows, cuckoos, robins, warblers, shore larks, log-headed shrikes and meadow larks. Even the crow and the crow black-bird, which have rested under suspicion so long, do more good than harm to the farmers.—Chicago News.

HOW THE DUTCH LOST NEW YORK

The first step toward making New York an English colony was taken 250 years ago, when Charles H. II. granted to his brother, the duke of York, a large territory in America, to be called, in honor of the proprietor, New York. This included the Dutch settlement of New Amsterdam and the "colony" of New Netherland, with Col. Richard Nicolls in command to be deputy governor. The Dutch settlers decided that it was useless to argue the case with the English invaders, "who were six times their number," and in autumn of 1664 Fort Amsterdam and Fort Orange were surrendered. The name of New Amsterdam was changed to Albany. Governor Stuyvesant swore allegiance to Charles II, but soon returned to Holland. New Amsterdam, founded over three centuries ago, had at the time of the English conquest a population of 1,500 while the total population of the province was about 10,000.

BEYOND HIS MEANS

"How much are your pies, mister?" asked diminutive "Tommy," peering wistfully over the top of the counter.
"Ten cents apiece, little fellow."
"Oh, I didn't want a piece; I wanted a whole one, but I only got a dime," and Tommy started to turn sorrowfully away.

LANGUAGE ASCRIBED TO FISH

There is a belief among fishermen that a herring, when caught, articulates a sound similar to the word "cheese." This sound is caused by an escape of air from the air bladder, or a movement of the gills. Fishermen, indeed, frequently state that the herrings "sneeze," just as Aristotle once said that gurnards "grunt." The gurnard was known to the Greeks, as "byron" and "coocy," apparently from the noise it was said to make.

Many fish have various forms of utterances attributed to them. On the Norfolk Broads, one often hears it said that an old jack pike has barked like a dog, and the same is said of the conger eel. Red-finned herrings, called "loanders" or "kings and queens," are sometimes caught, they are regarded as an omen of a successful fishing. One of them is then taken out of the nets very carefully, prevented from touching anything made of wood and passed around the scudding poles as many times as the fisherman desire to get lasts of herrings at the new haul.

ADVICE

"It's always safest and best."
"What is?"
"To think that your rival knows a little more than he seems to, and you know a little less than you think you do."

Notice to Water Users

The Waterworks Department is trying to conserve the spring water so as not to be compelled to use unhealthy river water.

All sprinkling is prohibited except between the hours of seven (7) and eight (8) in the evening during which hours each water user may sprinkle as he sees fit. All persons sprinkling except between the hours of seven and eight in the evening will have their water shut off and will have to pay the penalty before the same is turned on.

The Waterworks Department will appreciate any information as to any water users violating this rule.

PRIMROSES

I was at the railroad station in London, England, when the ambulance train came, says a correspondent, and as the stretcher was gently lifted out I fully picked up a damp little bunch of primroses and wood anemones which had fallen at my feet.
A pair of quick eyes, slightly dimmed with pain, noticed "They're mine, mine if you don't mind—must have fallen off my blanket—arms no use at present, as you see."
I made the pesty quite safe this time, near enough to his face for the fresh smell of the moss which still clung about the stalks to reach him. I wish that whoever had gathered and tied up all these little posies in some peaceful woodland spot, and sent them with such care to Waterloo labeled, "For the Wounded," could have been standing by my side that night.

THRIFT

Roly—Does your wife believe in domestic economy?
Poly—Yes; she saves all the "scraps" to be served for breakfast.

WHEN THE SHAR WAS SNUBBED

"Rank and wealth mean nothing to this little black-robed professor," writes Mary R. Parkman, in St. Nicholas, of Madame Curie. "It is said that when she was requested by the president to give a special demonstration of radium and its marvels before the shah of Persia, she amazed his serene highness by showing much more concern for her tiny cube of white powder than for his distinguished guest, who had never felt any particular need of exercising self control, saw the uncanny light that was able to pass through plates of iron, he gave a startled exclamation and made a sudden movement that tipped over the scientist's material. Now it was the lady professor's turn to be alarmed. To pacify her, the shah held out a costly ring from his royal finger, but this extraordinary woman with the pale face paid not the slightest attention; she could not be bribed, it was to be doubted if the eastern potentate had ever been treated with such scant ceremony."

Music has the same power to influence the mind that the "movies" have and, more than that, you can have and carry the music in your mind and hold it for a longer time than can the memory of the "movie" picture. Educators abroad say that it is very difficult to keep the children off the streets in war time, when their fathers are in the army and their mothers carry so many extra burdens. A little road made played anywhere at once attracts the children, and its power is strong enough to keep them near a piano for hours at a time.

There is one real danger, however, and that is the child who can play a few pieces and who thinks that she can earn a little extra money by giving cheap lessons in war time. The lessons of such an unprepared person are the worst things that could be given. Good lessons of none at all should be the rule. All teachers know this, but the parents at large do not and it is up to every teacher to spread the new idea by speech and also through their local papers.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Vesper Phoebe. During the severe electrical storm Sunday morning, the town of the Grosbeak farm, near Sauer's Corners was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

A man and a boy were in the barn working at the time it was struck but no one was injured.

Tom Barber who was driving along the road saw the lightning strike and watching up his horses, summoned the neighbors and with their help a lot of valuable machinery was saved. Lightning struck the barn pole and several telephone poles near Sauer's and burned a shock of eye on the Tenpas place.

STRANGER THAN FRICTION

Though you may not believe it, the following pathetic letter was written in France on the last day of February. The censor passed it bodily, but in passing made it an accurate copy, the which we reproduce:

Dear Ant:

Recalled your P. C. today and you are sure in rotten luck. All men look worse once in a while, so you should worry about an old skate that gives you about two quarts milk every five days. I am in the best of health, though you are the same. I had a letter from the old man yesterday him he was like a bull about that dam cow you lost. I mit lose my flor over here and you don't here me flor. I guess not, the old man does not think I am in France, and I should fret and fume about his outpour of love.

The old man was a good old skate, but since some one drew a flake over his nose he had plenty to say about it. I am in the best of health, though you are the same. I had a letter from the old man yesterday him he was like a bull about that dam cow you lost. I mit lose my flor over here and you don't here me flor. I guess not, the old man does not think I am in France, and I should fret and fume about his outpour of love.

Between the collar and the cap is placed an oval shaving mirror, the size and general shape of your face. Another poster urges the necessity of enlisting. It reads: "Come across or Germany will win. You make me sick and mad to think of you in the army. I should worry, anyway you never wrote me much and from what you did write me I had to tell you that I was in the army. I used to give you all kinds of money when I had it and never saw you anything what you did with this money. I got five dutchmen and maybe some more and then I got into some with medals and bells and I be good to you for that give me a soft job and I'll split fifty fifty with you and me. You can't beat it at that but for the love of Mike cut out all this gush about me being a soldier and forget it. I am fine and eat all I want to eat and I have a place here where a man can buy apples and meat and believe me I pushed a lot of this stuff into red wine. The wine tasted like that all a guy cares about. I well so long and make the old man shut up. So he is a good old fellow when lucky so find him some on an island off Portland, Maine, spend Thursday in this city visiting his grandmothers. Mrs. O. O. Davis, and other friends.

INFLUENCE OF MUSIC AMONG CHILDREN IN WAR TIME

Music has the same power to relieve the mind that the "movies" have and, more than that, you can take and carry the music in your mind and hold it for a longer time than can the memory of the "movie" picture. Educators abroad say that it is very difficult to keep the children off the streets in war times, and their mothers carry so many extra burdens. A little real music played anywhere at once attracts the children, and its power is strong enough to keep them near a piano for hours at a time.

There is one real danger, however, and that is the lady who can play a few pieces and who thinks that she can earn a little extra money by giving cheap lessons in war time. The lessons of such an unprepared person are the worst things that could be given to the children. All teachers know this, but the parents at large do not and it is up to every teacher to spread the new idea by speech and also through their local papers.

HIGH PRODUCTION OF ARMS AND AMUNITIONS

The attention of owners of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps is called to the following. They are financing the work.

On one day in June last approximately 27,000,000 cartridges of various descriptions were produced in the United States manufacturing plants for the United States Government.

The daily average production of United States Army rifles was broken in the week ending June 29, an average of 10,142 rifles a day of a modified Enfield and Springfield type being maintained. In addition spare parts equivalent to several thousand rifles and several thousand Russian rifles were manufactured.

The Ordnance Department has produced 2,014,315,534 cartridges, 1,886,760 rifles, and $2,640 machine guns since the United States entered the war. The daily output of cartridges is now 15,000,000.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Voters of Wood County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination of Sheriff on the republican ticket at the September primary and will appreciate your support.

Respectfully yours,
CLIFF BLUETT.

THE PEOPLE OF INDIA

The population of India is far more diverse than is generally thought. They talk about 150 different languages, and are divided up into 43 distinct nationalities. There are 2,333,000,000 people in India, of whom 200,000,000 are Hindus, from which Great Britain can draw fighting men; 60,000,000 are Mohammedans, while among the Hindus there are 50,000,000 of degraded people of no caste, whose touch, or even shadow, is supposed to cause pollution.

HAVE THEIR OWN TROUBLES

It was while I was being initiated into the technique of stoking by shoveling coal under the boilers that a change of course brought the ship rolling dead ahead, and set the ship rolling even more drunkenly than before, writes Lewis R. Freeman in Popular Mechanics Magazine. After failing to hit the "dark spots" and "hollows" two or three times as I singed to the roll, and once even missing the furnace door itself, one of the stokers, taking compassion, relieved me of the scoop and put the trouble right with a half-dozen quick tosses of the coal.

I was glad to work over to where I could take a "half-nelson" round a bar by the starboard bunker. A heavy slam-bang from the opposite side of the boiler room indicated that things were not going quite so smoothly there, and edging cautiously along, I was presently able to get some hint of what was going on. A stoker, volubly cursing, who limped out to tell me that the "blinkin' skip" as took charge. Rubbing a bruised shin and glowering balefully from blackened eyes which appeared to have been bumped against a boiler, he explained in language more forcible than elegant, that the practical theorist had encouraged them to experiment with wheels on the side of the ship, with the idea of making it easier to push about over the coal cluttered deck. In the process, the language of the sea, it had "taken charge" and so effectively that one swift, straight rush to starboard, followed by a "googy" progress back to port, put every man who, either by chance or intent, barred its way, more or less hours de combat.

Straight down the one-in-three incline from the port to the starboard bunkers lolloped the juggernaut, dashing the protesting anatomies of the stokers left and right. Spitting blood and oaths indiscriminately, one man clung to it all the way, however, and he also it was who—taking advantage of the situation—remained it harmless by pushing it over on its side, where it was turned turtle.

EXCHANGE OF LIBERTY BONDS

The issue of registered bonds of the Third Liberty Loan has progressed so far that transfers and exchanges of registered for coupon bonds will be made on and after August 1, until August 15. The registered books will be closed on the later date in order to prepare checks for interest payments on September 15. Bonds may be presented during such period for transfer or exchange, but such transaction will be effected after September 15 and the September interest paid to whoever was holder of the bonds on August 15. Coupon bonds presented after August 15 for exchange for registered bonds should have the September interest coupon registered; the registered bonds issued upon such exchange will bear interest from September 15.

ORDINANCE NO. 210

AN ORDINANCE amending form of bond and fixing tax levy in respect of bonds authorized by Ordinance No. 208, entitled, "An Ordinance providing for the issuance of $15,000 Water Works Bonds of the City of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin."

WHEREAS, Ordinance Number 208, adopted on July 2, 1918, makes provision for the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of principal and interest of bonds thereby authorized, as the same mature, save that proceeds of taxes by said Ordinance, levied for the year 1918, may not be available for the payment of interest accruing January 1, 1919, and that proceeds of taxes by said Ordinance provided to be levied for each of the years 1919 to 1937 may not be available for the payment of principal and interest maturing January 1st of each of the years 1920 to 1934, both years included;

WHEREAS, said bonds are issued pursuant to authority derived from Section 925-133 of Chapter 45t and Section 943 of Chapter 45v of the Wisconsin Statutes, 1917, and it is desirable that the form of bond prescribed by said Ordinance be amended consistently therewith;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the form of bond prescribed by said ordinance, be amended by striking out the second paragraph thereof, and that in lieu thereof, there be inserted the following: "This bond is issued for the purpose of enlarging the waterworks system in and the property of said City, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with Section 925-133 of Chapter 45t and Section 943 of Chapter 45v of the Wisconsin Statutes, 1917, and all other pertinent Sections of said statutes and an Ordinance duly passed by the common council of said City, approved by the Mayor and published."

Section 2. That in order to provide a fund for the payment of interest and principal of said bonds, becoming due on January first of each of the years 1920 to 1934, both years included, there be and there is hereby levied for the year 1918, upon all the taxable property in said City, in addition to other taxes heretofore provided to be levied by said Ordinance Number 208, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $1,375; that said sum of $1,375, when collected, be kept as a separate fund and used for the purpose of paying principal and interest becoming due and payable January 1, 1920; that thereafter said fund be reimbursed each year from the taxes heretofore provided to be levied by said Ordinance No. 208, when the same shall be received, so that said City shall have on hand on January first of each of the years 1921 to 1934, both years included, funds sufficient to pay the interest and principal maturing on January first of each of said years.

That interest accruing January 1, 1919, in the amount of $375, be paid out of the general funds of said City, and that said fund be reimbursed in a like amount out of the taxes heretofore levied by said Ordinance No. 208 for the year 1918, when the same shall be received.

Section 3. That this Ordinance become effective upon its passage, approval, and publication.

Passed, adopted and approved August 6, 1918.

Attest:
F. G. GILKEY, CHAS. E. BRIERE,
City Clerk, Mayor.

THE BUSY BIRD

One form of national waste which is far more serious than the American people realize is a result of the deplorable neglect to conserve bird life in this heedless and ungrateful country. Ornithologists and other intelligent observers of nature who have made a study of the subject say with the sanction of crop experts that insects destroy one-fourth of the products of agriculture in the United States. Nearly all birds destroy insect life. The federal department of agriculture has found that among the birds which most effectively aid the farmers are phoebes, kingbirds, catbirds, swallows, brown thrushes, redbreasted grosbeaks, house wrens, orioles, warblers, shore larks, log-headed shrikes and meadow larks. Even the crow and the crow blackbird, which have rested under suspicion so long, do more good than harm to the farmers.—Chicago News.

HOW THE DUTCH LOST NEW YORK

The first step toward making New York an English colony was taken 250 years ago, when Charles H. II granted to his brother, the duke of York, a large territory in America, to be called, in honor of the proprietor, New York. This included the Dutch settlement of New Amsterdam and the "colony" of New Netherland, with Col. Richard Nicolls in command, to be deputy governor.

BEYOND HIS MEANS

"How much are your pies, mister?" asked diminutive Pomme, peering wistfully over the top of the counter.

"Ten cents apiece, little feller."

"Oh I didn't want a piece; I wanted a whole one, but I only got a dime," and Tommie started to turn sorrowfully away.

LANGUAGE ASCRIBED TO FISH

There is a belief among fishermen that a herring, when caught, articulates a sound similar to the word "cheese." This sound is caused by an escape of air from the air bladder, or a movement of the gills. Fishermen, indeed, frequently state that the herrings "cheese," just as Aristotle once said that gurnards "grunt."

PRIMROSES

I was at the railroad station in London, England, when the ambulance train came, says a correspondent, and as the stretchers were gently lifted out I idly picked up a damp little bunch of primroses and wood anemones which had fallen at my feet.

A pair of quick eyes, slightly dimmed with pain, noticed. "They're mine, miss if you don't mind—must have fallen off my blanket—arise no use at present, as you see."

I made the posy quite safe this time, near enough to his face for the fresh smell of the moss which still clung about the stalks to reach him. I wish that whoever had gathered and tied up all these little posies in some peaceful woodland spot, and sent them with such care to Waterloo, could have been standing by my side that night.

WHEN THE SHAH WAS SNUBBED

"Rank and wealth mean nothing to this little black-robed professor," writes Mary R. Parkman, in St. Nicholas, of Madame Curie. "It is said that when she was requested by the president to give a special demonstration of radium and its marvelous effects before the shah of Persia, she amazed his serene highness by showing much more concern for her tiny tube of white powder than for his dazzling favor. When the royal guest, who had never felt any particular need of exercising self control, saw the unassuming light that was able to pass through plates of iron, he gave a startled exclamation and made a sudden movement that tipped over the scientist's material. Now it was the lady professor's turn to be alarmed. To profess her, the shah held out a costly ring from his royal finger, but this extraordinary woman with the pale face paid not the slightest attention; she could not be bribed to forget the peril of her previous radium. It is to be doubted if the eastern potentate had ever been treated with such scant ceremony."
